

Daily Morning Worship Monday 27th April

How much do you value our amazing home?

If the earth was just a metre in diameter, floating a few feet above a field somewhere, people would come from everywhere to marvel at it. People would walk round it, marvelling at its big pools of water, its little pools and the water flowing between the pools.

People would marvel at the bumps on it, and the holes in it, and at the very thin layer of gas surrounding it and the water suspended in the gas. The people would marvel at all the creatures walking around the surface of the ball and at the creatures in the water.

The people would declare it as sacred because it was the only one, and they would protect it so that it would not be hurt.

The ball would be the greatest wonder known, and the people would come to pray to it, to be healed, to gain knowledge, to know beauty and to wonder how it could be. People would love it, and defend it with their lives, because they would somehow know that their lives, their own goodness, could be nothing without it.

If the world were only a few feet in diameter.

I wonder what you are valuing at this moment about life and creation?

I wonder how you are showing you care for creation?

During these times when life is so different can you think about what life could be like to show that we genuinely care for our precious, unique and beautiful planet?

Can you do something to help at these times?

Can you plant something to nurture?

Can you make a poster to show how precious our world is?

Dear God,

We thank you for our beautiful awesome planet.

We are sorry when we have done things that harm the earth and environment.

Help us to value creation and all life on our planet.

Help us to live our lives showing that we care for the Earth.

Help us to be trustworthy and responsible stewards of our precious planet Earth.

Amen
